ENTRANCE TO ASHLAND'S NEW ATHLETIC FIELD. (Myers Field)

FOREWORD

To cherish the activities and ideals of Ashland High School and perpetuate its pleasant memories is the purpose of this book.

DEDICATION

To Lou Cowan and Katherine Pille who have served the Ashland School System the greater part of their lives and whose service to the community has been immeasurable, we respectfully dedicate The Spodogian of 1929.

Cast of Characters
"LITTLE WOMEN"
(Faculty Play)

This is the first time A. H. S. has been honored by such a performance. We at last have had an opportunity to see the faculty in other moods than those they carry in the class room. This play was very well accepted by the public. We hope for more in the future.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Four years ago, ours, The Class of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-nine, came to the open doors of the great mill of Ashland High School. We came with fear and trembling and having presented our entrance tickets, were admitted to this strange untiring factory—through which we were to be ground as had been so many classes before—with its competent and well picked force, and bright and shining machinery. This, like all machinery, will get clogged and out of repair, but all in all, it has gone smoothly for us.

In our first department we were treated with x, y, z, and other unknown fluids while being ground through Latin conjugations and Science. Later in the year we were united with the Juniors in a reception to give us some of their social culture.

As we were advanced through the mill we were mingled with circles and cubes, French, English, and Spanish with History thrown in, and the whole sprinkled with chemical compounds and elements.

In our third department we were mixed with the Freshmen, and gave them some of our social culture which had been treated to us in the earliest stage of our development.

We have been hashed and pieced, chopped and stuffed, pushed and pulled, and driven through with faithful toil and care. We have been shaved off and patched up, cut and dried, until one would not recognize us as the malleable fresh material of which we were once composed.

Much of our material was gathered with that of the other classes to make up the athletics, glee clubs, band, orchestra, debate, dramatics and orations.

During this severe and intricate process we have lost many of our members, but what we have lost in quantity, we more than make up in quality.

We will soon be labeled, weighed and put on the market, business, educational, social, matrimonial and otherwise. All of this has been accomplished not only by the care and diligence of the mill hands but also by much strenuous effort and hard labor on our own part. Upon us has fallen the task of absorbing and assimilating all those concoctions which have been administered in the different stages of our development. It is the duty, then, of each individual of our class to act the finished product of our Ashland High School.

—Gertrude Jesson.

SENIOR WILL

We, The Senior Class of Nineteen Hundred Twenty-nine, of the Ashland High School, City of Ashland, County of Ashland, State of Ohio, being in the act and spirit of leaving said school, and in full and unquestioned possession of sound mind, memory, and understanding, and having attained the lawful (or unlawful, as the case may be) age of four years, do make, publish, announce, and declare in deep gratification thereof, this, our last and final will and testament, that is to say:

To the Juniors we leave a fund of ninety-eight (98) cents to be expended on a dance of strictest propriety and rigorous censorship, with the hope that they will not follow in our footsteps.

To the Sophomores we leave the great ocean of knowledge and a very frail craft in which to traverse it to our own happy ending.

To Mr. Cummings we leave the "second corridor." May he keep it quiet.

To Ned Donley, Bob Nichols leaves a pair of "specs" for the labor requiring midnight oil. They may be used on dates.

Ralph Meade bequeaths his oratorical ability to Howard Alsdorf, May he be as successful as Ralph.

To Iva Fae Duncan, Martha McIntosh wills her place before the cloak hall mirror.

Kathryn Kerr leaves her youth to Raymond Leiter.

To Catherine Neff, Miriam Hull leaves her musical talent.

To Miss Countryman we leave a faded violet as a token of our sorrow for her loss of such an ideal class.

To Mary Louise Moore, Janice Bowsher bequeaths her dramatic ability.

Earl Kirkpatrick leaves his curly hair to Bob Topper to be waved in the exact waves as it has been this year.

To Pat Welty, Julia Enck leaves her ability to get A grades.

To Rachel Reaser, Maxine Freytag bequeaths her place on the debate squad.

Lastly, we, the aforementioned and aforesaid Senior Class of Ashland High School, Ashland, Ohio, do hereby appoint Dick Lutz, Esq., as executor of this, our last will and testament.

Any odds and ends, any and all the rest of our property, real and personal, not already disposed of, we do give, devise, and bequeath into the willing hands of the new Freshmen Class, for them to start their collection of material wealth and prosperity.

In WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hand and fixed our seal this third day of June, A. D., one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine.

(Per) Gertrude Jesson.

The Student Council, an advisory club, was organized five years ago at the suggestion of Mr. Frasher and has been a useful and active body ever since.

The membership of the student council is made up of the governors of each home room, class officers, and representatives from the different clubs. Superintendent Bowsher and Principal Cummings act in the capacity of faculty advisers. The chief aim of this body is to create a feeling of good fellowship between the faculty and the student body.

Among their many accomplishments this year were operation of the bulletin board, helping on visitors' day and also at the mock election, gettng out ballots at the time a new high school song was discussed, taking care of unlocked lockers in gyms, aiding the Woman's Federation in the sale of Christmas seals, assigning compartments for individuals in cloak halls, creating enthusiam by taking charge of rallies and having a bonfire and parade for the Mansfield football game. They are also planning to create an employment agency and a safety council. We hope that they will succeed in these undertakings.

The past year has seen the largest number enrolled in the Pep Club that has ever been recorded in the Ashland High School.

The most outstanding features of this year's program for the Club were the buying of the Pep Hats which were worn to the games to designate membership to the Club, and the decorating of the Myers Field for all the games.

The purpose of this Club is to stir up pep and enthusiasm for athletic contests and other school activities.

The Pep Club up to this time has been a live wire organization and we have hopes that next year's Pep Club will be even larger and more peppy.

This club was first organized last year under the direction of Miss Countryman. The purpose of this club is twofold; mainly, to have a better understanding of modern American authors and secondly, to create a better feeling of fellowship among class members.

All students taking American Literature are entitled to membership in this club. At the meetings which are held every three weeks the lives and works of modern American authors are discussed. Some of the authors that have been studied are: Gene Stratton Porter, Edna St. Vincent Milay, O'Henry, Booth Tarkington, Dorothy Parker, Samuel Hoffenstein, and Temple Bailey.

This organization, although it has only been in existence two years, has proved quite successful.

This is the second year of the French Club in Ashland High School. Its purpose is to increase the knowledge of the language and to study further the country of France, its customs and people. The programs are carried on entirely in French and consist of singing French songs, playing French games, giving French readings, and presenting French plays. They furnish entertainment as well as encouragement in the study of French.

One prominent feature in the study of the French language, customs, and people, is that the students correspond with French boys and girls. These letters are written in English because our language is a requirement in their school. The students here find this very interesting as probably do the French students also.

Under the able direction of Miss Mason, the Club has progressed rapidly during the two years of its existence in Ashland High School.

For the first semester the officers were chosen from the advanced class with their assistants from the other class. At the end of the first semester the assistants took the place of those officers who had finished their course in French. They then became the regular officers.

This club is composed of a selected group of volunteer helpers whose scholastic standing is such that they can spare time for service during study periods. The members are divided into two sections. The first are those upper classmen who work three hours a week and also present a satisfactory notebook. These students receive academic credit for their work, a recognition from the state department of education that is granted few extra-curricular activities in Ohio high schools. The second group is composed of both upper aand under classmen who serve one hour a week. These students although they receive no credit are yet entitled to full participation because of their faithful work and allowed to wear the new club pin which was adopted.

Besides the monthly gatherings, the club this year has been able, by means of candy and ice cream sales, to finance a trip to the Cleveland libraries. This expedition was the most important of the year's activities.

A spirit of ready willingness to do anything to better the service of the school library has been a marked characteristic of the club members. Added to the appreciation of the student body now for this service, will come in later years to the individual members of the Library Service Club a realization of the practical worth of this activity as a preparation for the intelligent use of libraries, and also as a training ground for better knowledge of books and of their value to the educated man both his help mates in working hours and companions in leisure time.

Debate

L. U. TODD

As far as gaining experience Ashland High School debaters obtained a great amount, although their losses outnumbered their wins. This is due to Mr. L. U. Todd, Varsity Debate Coach of Ashland High School, who spent much time with the teams. The proposition for debate was, "Resolved, that the United States should cease to protect by force of arms private property invested in foreign lands." This year a new idea was carried out, that of having a mixed program. Two rounds of debate were held. During the first, debates only were held, while in the second a varied program was given. This consisted of a debate, a declamation, an oration and musical numbers. With the exception of the musical numbers, all other numbers on the program were judged and points were awarded. In this manner more students took part in the programs and they were also more interesting to the audience.

The Varsity Debate Club was organized at the beginning of the first semester and functioned as an organization until the Christmas vacation. TheClub then ceased to function and all action was centered on the deve'opment of the Varsity Debate progam.

This organization produced nine varsity debaters as well as the school orator and declaimer.

Although the success of the debate season was not as good as in former years still the value received was equally as good if not better than in previous years.

The Junior Debate Club was organized by Miss Mildred Adams to promote a greater interest in debate in the Jr. High School. The club has 37 active members. They meet during the first period on Friday afternoons throughout the debate season. Debates are held weekly on various subjects, each member of the club participating in at least one debate. The Jr. Debate Club was represented by four members of the club in the inter-class. Those on the team were: Rosemary Ferguson, Richard Brindle, Dora Louise Patton and Mary Elizabeth Garber. The question was, "Resolved that the Kellogg Peace Pact should be adopted as a step toward the establishment of World Peace." The Jr. Debaters were defeated by the Freshmen in a 2-1 decision.

Dramatics

DRAMATICS DIRECTRESS

To Miss McAdco, Ashland High School's Dramatic teacher, goes a great deal of credit for the manner in which the various plays of the year have been presented. Miss McAdoo not only coaches the plays which are given but also teaches English and conducts a class in Dramatics. The first production of this department for this year was "The Hottentot," a three act comedy which was very cleverly given by members of the Masquers and Mummers Club, the dramatic organization of the school. "A Lucky Break" was the second production. This three act farce was presented by the Junior Class in an admirable manner. The third and last production was the senior class play, "Icebound." This was not a comedy and required more dramatic ability than did the other plays. The Dramatic department is growing and we hope it will continue doing so.

The Hottentot, as those who saw it can tell you, was an extremely interesting play. It was given by the Ashland High School Dramatic Club, The "Masquers and Mummers," which is the cream of the dramatical talent of Ashland High.

The play was given before a good house and an appreciative audience.

THE LUCKY BREAK

The Junior Play of this year broke all previous records set by Junior classes. The Lucky Break was a lively 3-act comedy in which the characters were well portrayed by exceptionally well chosen characters.

DRAMATIC CLUB

FIRST ROW—Gertrude Jesson, Kathryn Kerr, Cecil Rogers, Betty Helbert, Frances E. Wolf, Ione Patrick, Dorothy Gongwer, Naomi Kopp, Miriam Hull.

SECOND ROW—Irving Wiley, Marge Clark, Ruth Markley, Mary Alice George, Gladys Denbow, Julia Enck, Mary Louise Moore, Helen Louise Hess, Harriet Welty, Janice Bowsher, Harold McCuen.

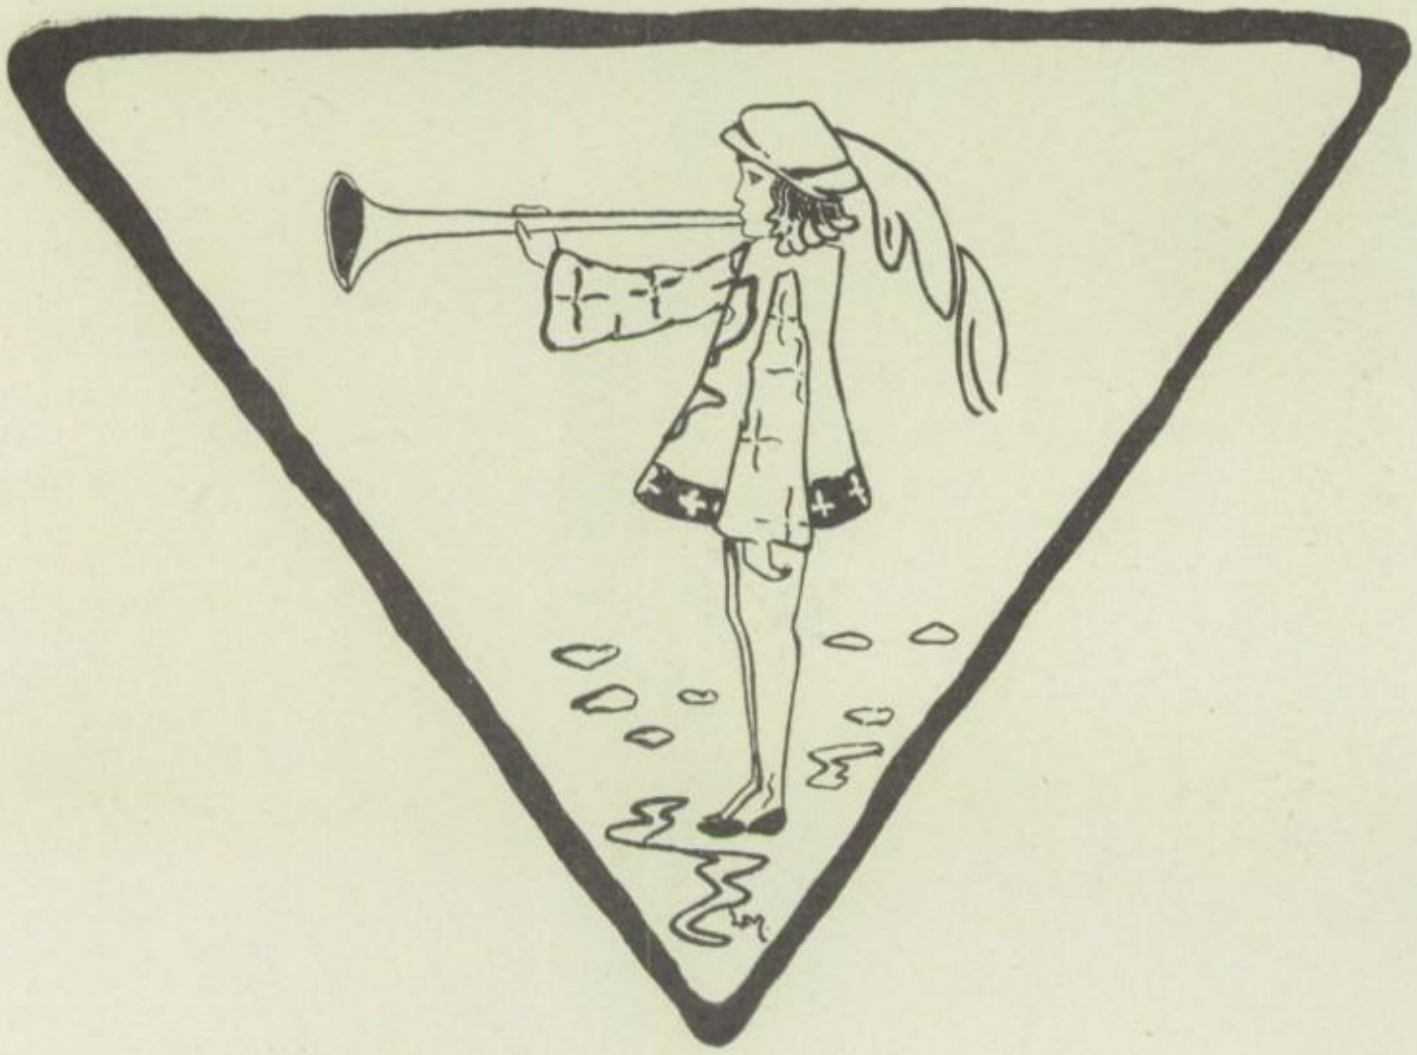
The "Masquers and Mummers" was organized in 1928 composed of the selected talent of the school. Its only presentation was the "Hottentot," a three act play directed by Miss McAdoo, who is also sponsor of the club. This play was well accepted by the public.

This club now has 31 members with only six of the original members. It has been officially accepted by the school and was established in 1927.

PRESIDENT .....GEORGE RICHARDS



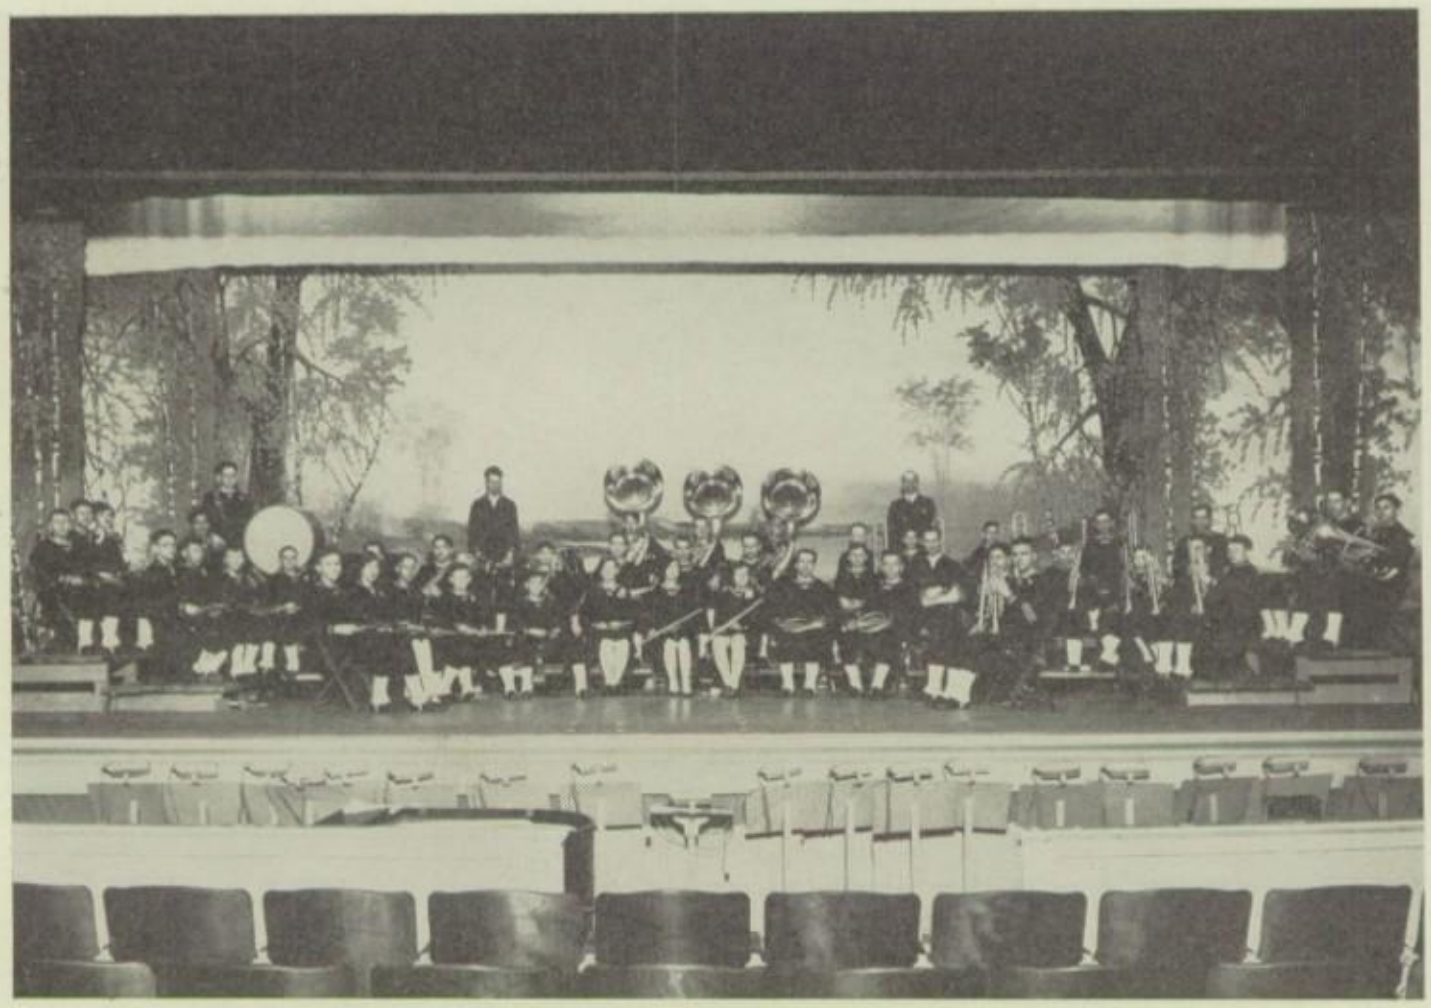
Music

LOUIS E. PETE

Mr. Louis Pete, who has been in active charge of all musical activities in the high school for five years, has not only developed the musical ability of the various groups under his immediate direction, but he has also developed a keen sense of musical appreciation throughout the schools as well as among the citizens generally. Under his excellent direction the boys' and girls' glee clubs, high school band, junior and senior orchestras have reached higher standards than are ordinarily found in large city schools.

On February eleventh the annual concert was given in which both the boys' and girls' glee clubs participated and also the orchestra. On March fourth the band members gave their concert which was excellent. The rendition of "Atlantis" will probably be long remembered. On April fifteenth the operetta "Sylvia" was given with a cast of twelve and three different choruses. "Sylvia" was perhaps the best operetta that has been offered in Ashland High School for some time.

The most unusual production of the year for the musical department was the remarkable illustration of what the smaller children can do. This was shown in the presentation of the "Music Festival," in which nearly 1,500 school children took part. Without exception this performance drew the largest crowd that has ever been in McDowell Auditorium for an entertainment.



THE BAND

The Ashland High School Band has been remarkably good this year. There are fifty members in our Band and very, very great talent. Our Band played at all the foot ball and basket ball games and of course added much pep and enthusiasm to both the players and the spectators.

The Band, under the direction of Mr. Louis E. Pete, gave an excellent concert in which they played many difficult and stirring numbers, among which was "Atlantis" very deserving of special mention. Also at this concert several solos were played which exhibited individual talent.

THE ORCHESTRA

The Orchestra, which has thirty-one members, has been unusually successful this year under the direction of Mr. Louis E. Pete. The Orchestra is composed of boys and girls from all six classes in High School and has shown exceptional talent.

Besides taking part in chapel, rallies and assemblies, the Orchestra participated in the Annual Winter Concert and played interesting and fascinating numbers, among which were numbers by the best beloved composer, Victor Herbert.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

This year the Girls' Glee Club very ably upheld the reputation which it has won in musical circles in Ashland. The Glee Club has fifty-four members this year which is practically the same as it has had for the past few years.

They have taken part in the operetta, "Sylvia," and the Annual Winter Concert very ably.

A group deserving special mention was that of "River, River," "Asa's Death," and "The Cake Shop Romance."

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

Although this organization has not as many voices as the Girls' Club it has just as much quality and talent. A pleasant rivalry has existed between the two clubs and it would be hard to say just which is the better.

The Boys' Glee Club also participated in the Annual Winter Concert and the operetta, "Sylvia."

Their best group was undoubtedly that which contained "The Holy Mother Sings" and "Exhortation."

OPERETTA

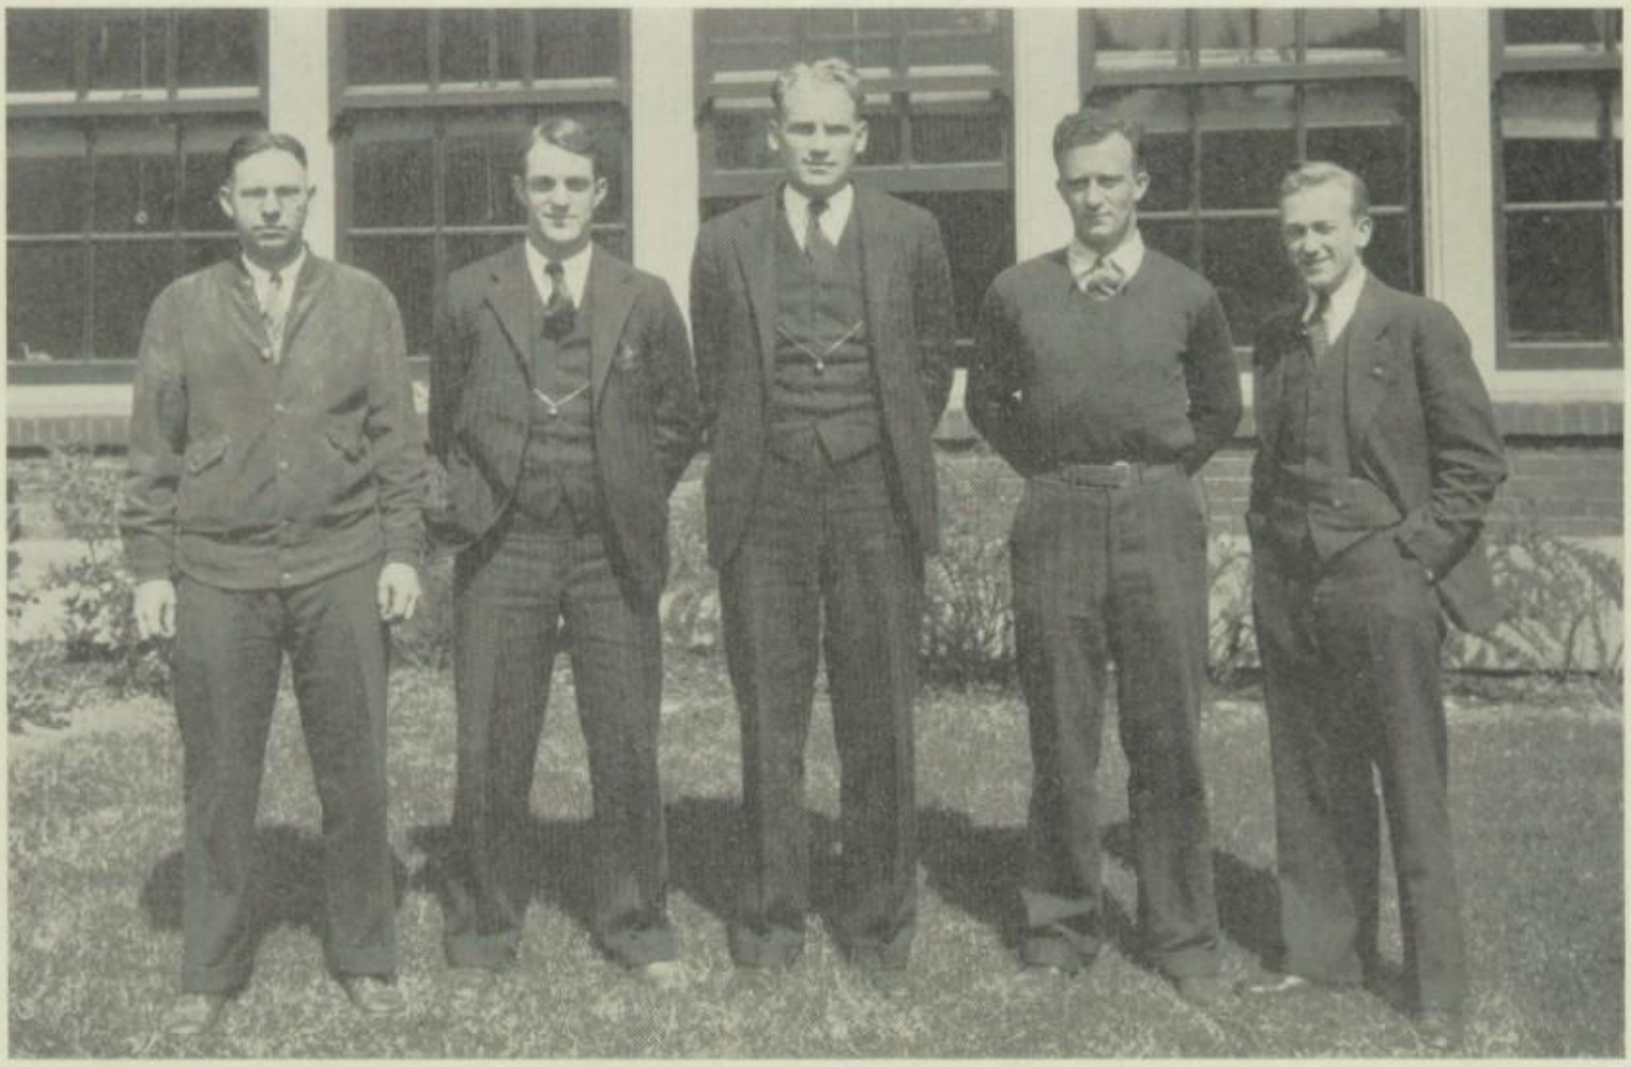
CAST

FIRST ROW—Charlotte Teeter, Jean Weuthrick. Monica Priest,
BACK ROW—Miriam Hull, Ralph Meade, Florence Leiter, Irving Wiley, Helen Ford, Desse Keese, Glenn Jacobs, Catherine Neff.

"Sylvia," the operetta, given by the musical organizations this year was one of the best that has ever been given. It is interesting to note that this Operetta was given twenty years ago under the direction of Mr. Wertman.

The cast for this production was composed of the girls' and boys' glee clubs with the accompaniment of the orchestra. The operetta was supervised by Mr. L. E. Pete, Miss Jardine, and Miss Thelma Slack.

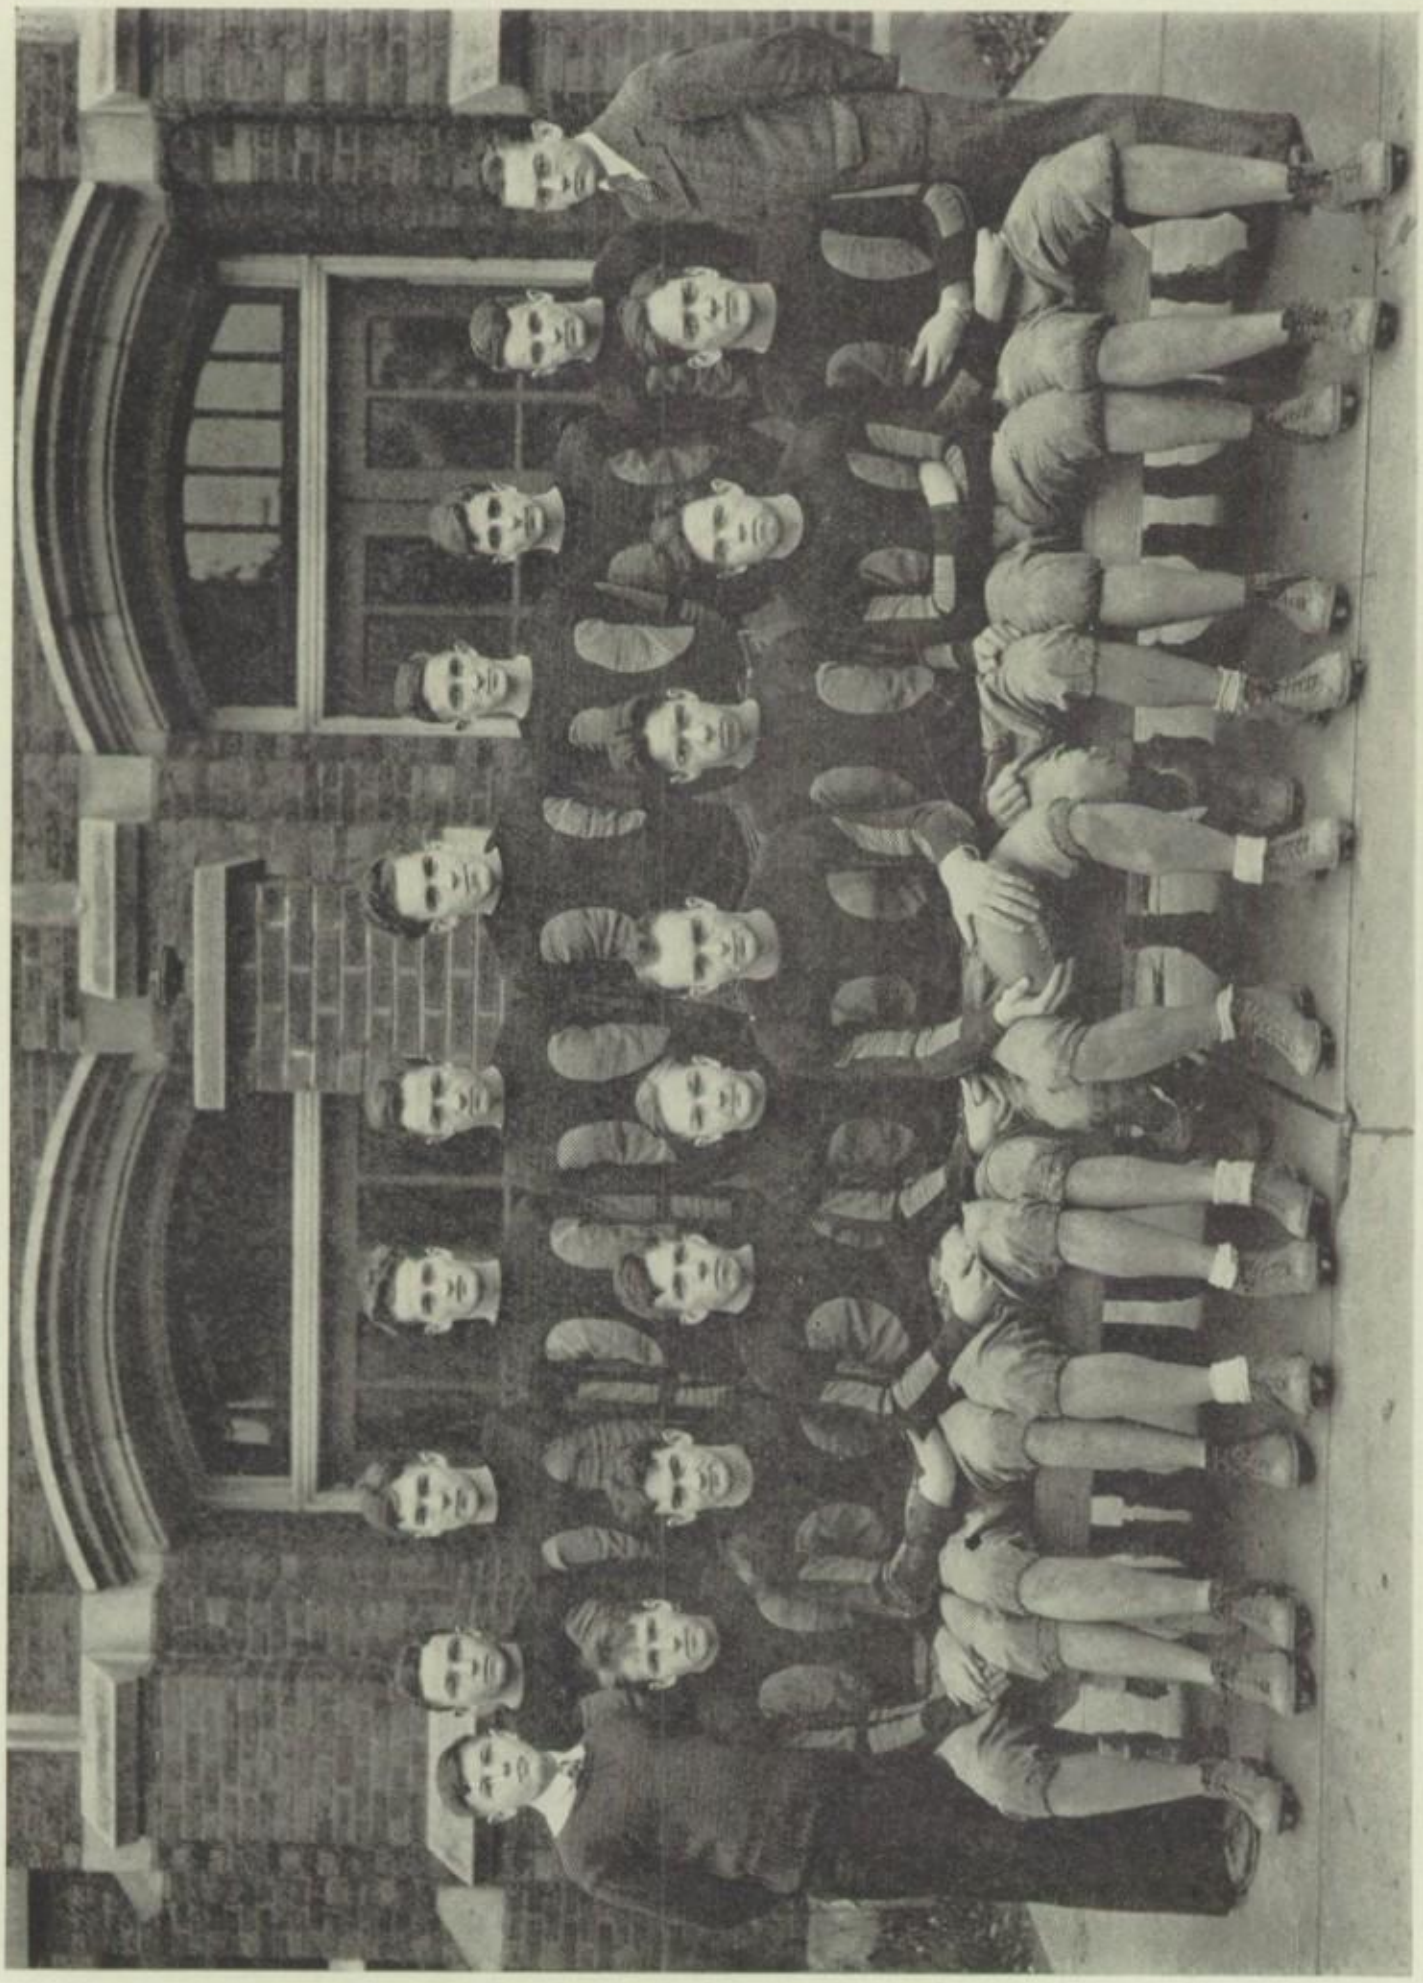
Athletics



COACHING STAFF

The Coaching Staff of A. H. S. is composed of some of the best athletes in Ohio, and this of course is no hindrance. Mr. S. R. Boyd, Director of Physical Education, a graduate of Muskingum, has had a wide range of experience in every way. Mr. G. D. (Rosy) Starn, head football, basket ball and track coach, is a graduate of Wooster College and was placed on the All-Ohio football and basket ball team. Wayne (Pete) Blough, assistant football, basket ball and head baseball, is also a graduate of Wooster, also won recognition as an All-Ohio quarterback. Geo. Donges, assistant track coach, hails from Ashland College. Edward Avison, graduate of Wooster, captained the tank team from there.

With this array of valuable experience why shouldn't A. H. S. produce good teams?



FOOTBALL

Although the '28 team did not win so many games it could not be considered as a complete failure. The team as a whole gave a good exhibition of clean sportsmanship.

This team will be remembered as a good team of mud horses, because every game but the Mansfield game that was played in a muddy field was won, Galion and Wooster both had stronger and heavier teams but it was muddy—so A. H. S. won.

The big game of the season—Mansfield was full of spectacular runs by Mansfield, but then it could have been worse. A summary of the year follows:

FOOTBALL SCORES

New London	41	—	Ashland	6
Millersburg	2	—	Ashland	12
Marion	31	—	Ashland	7
Bucyrus	39	—	Ashland	12
Shelby	18	—	Ashland	0
Wooster	6	—	Ashland	8
Galion	0	—	Ashland	7
Mansfield	56	—	Ashland	0

VARSITY MEN

JAY VEE FOOTBALL

The Jay Vees showed up fairly well in football. The team composed mostly of Sophomores and Juniors, won one, lost one, and tied one, making a 500% record.

The following is the season's result—

Jay Vees	7	—	Lodi	7
Jay Vees	0	—	Wooster	0
Jay Vees	0	—	Loudonville	6

Ed. Slocum, Stone, Arnholt, Brindle, Schulte, Kissel, Peck, Rybolt, Wiley, Fluke, Matthews, Carmony, Miller, R. Smith, Keffer, Watson, Strait, Hulit Rankin.

THE BASKET BALL SEASON

The basketball season this year was very successful. The team, playing headsup basketball, won 12 out of 17 games. Although no league pennant was clinched, Ashland undoubtedly obtained a better record than any team in the league.

The following is a summary of the season:

CRESTLINE

We opened the season by beating Crestline 19-10. Playing in a very small gym, the boys looked fine and a very fine season was anticipated.

BEREA

Letting things slip by in a very rough-shod manner Berea came out of the North and stepped on us 28-23.

FREMONT

With the dope against us, Ashland went to Fremont and nosed out the "Little Big Seven Champ" by a score of 18-13.

BASKET BALL SEASON (CONTINUED)

JOHN ADAMS

For the second successive year Ashland defeated John Adams. Ashland, leading all the way, came through with a 22-15 victory.

AKRON CENTRAL

In a hotly contested overtime, Ashland was defeated 17-16 by Akron Central. Both teams played good basketball and it was anybody's game up to the last second.

WOOSTER

As usual Ashland, not exerting themselves, defeated Wooster by a score of 24-18. The game was rather slow and lacked the usual thrill.

GALION

Some of the boys "preferred a Lucky instead of a sweet," and Ashland dropped the first league game to Galion by a tally of 24-18.

SHELBY

With Shelby furnishing the opposition for the second league game, Ashland redeemed themselves by beating them 25-17.

AKRON ST. VINCENT

Ashland continued to stay in the win column by upsetting the dope to beat St. Vincents, one of the strong East teams in Akron. The game, although the score was 27-19, was a very hot battle outside of the last 2 minutes.

MANSFIELD

Ashland journeyed to Mansfield and knocked off her old rival by a score of 22-21. The game was Ashland's third league contest, and they pulled up into second place.

MARION

With the league title at stake, we went to Marion and got buck fever. We lacked the usual pep and were downed 22-13.

WOOSTER

In the last game at Wooster Ashland managed to come out on top 25-23. Ashland couldn't hit, but managed to win out.

BUCYRUS

Again Ashland proved to be the old jinx, in basketball, for Bucyrus, by beating them 43-31. This, perhaps, was the best game of the season, and was featured by high scoring.

MANSFIELD

In the second game of the season with Mansfield, Ashland won, in a hot overtime tilt. Mansfield fought an uphill battle, but Ashland managed to stay in front.

MASSILLON

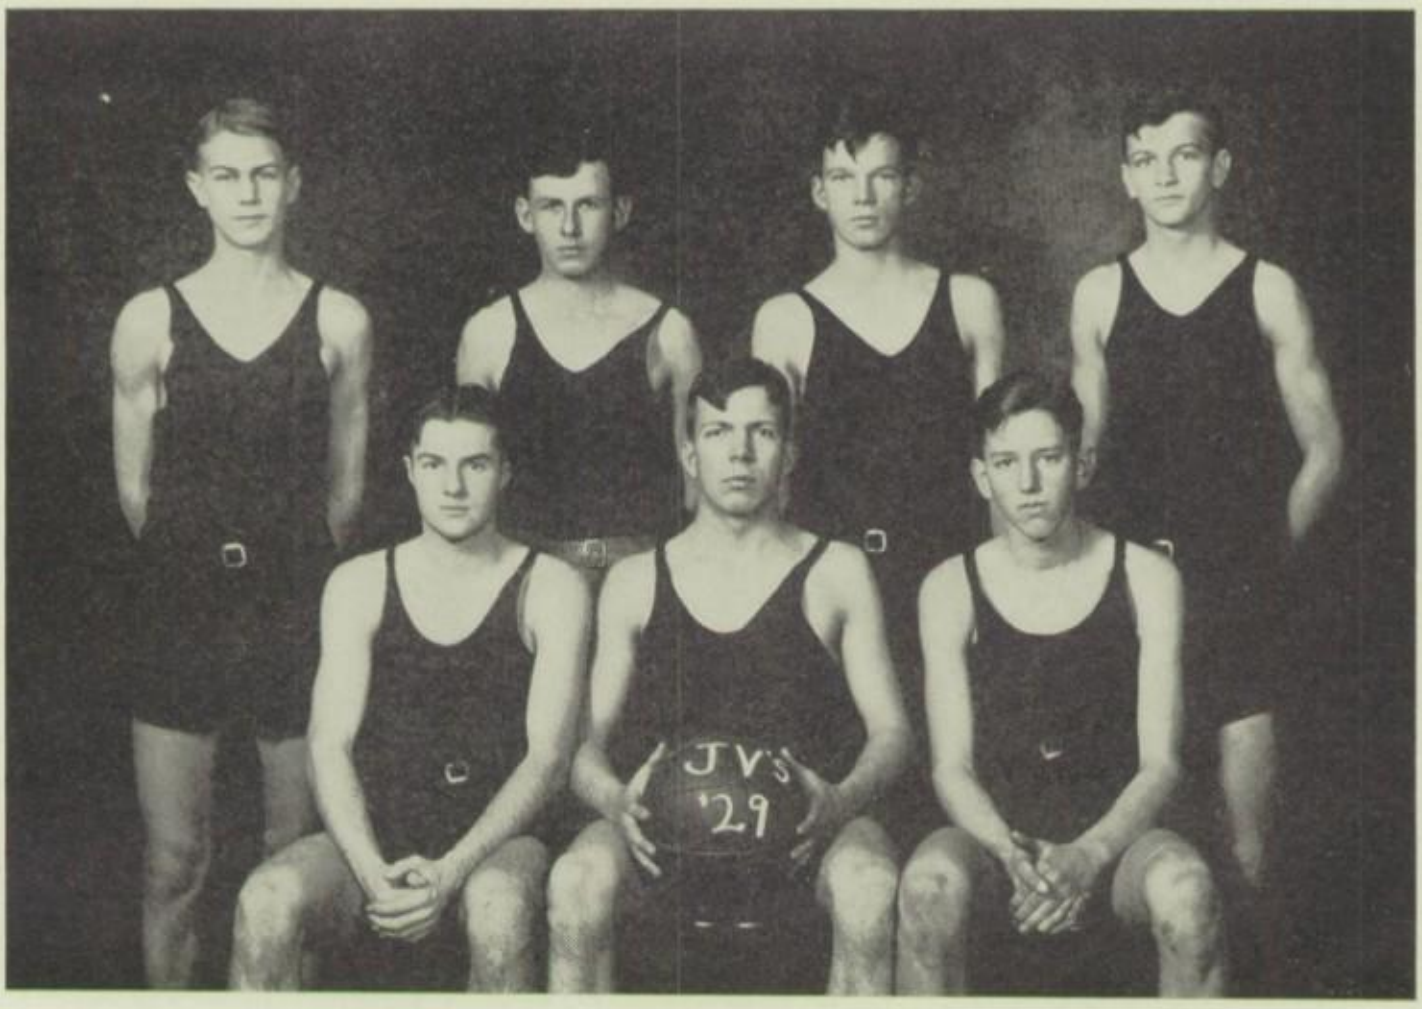
In the first game of the tournament, Ashland won over Massillon by a score of 21-19. Ashland led all the way, except the last few minutes, when Massillon led by one point. A timely field goal then turned the tide for an Ashland victory in the last minute.

AKRON NORTH

In the second game, Ashland won, against a slow Akron North team, by a score of 22-12.

AKRON SOUTH

In the predicted battle between Ashland and Akron South, in the third tournament game, Ashland was defeated by a large score of 29-21. Ashland led at the half, but was unable to avert the fast attack.



JAY VEE'S BASKETBALL

The Jay Vees continued to live up to their basketball reputation. They played like veterans, winning 5 out of 7 games. There are several boys among them that should make a showing next year.

RESULTS

Jay Vees	28	—	Mansfield	11
Jay Vees	16	—	Mansfield (overtime)	18
Jay Vees	19	—	Congress	17
Jay Vees	26	—	Bucyrus	18
Jay Vees	13	—	Shelby	11
Jay Vees	18	—	Lutheran	36
Jay Vees	37	—	Christian	7

THE GIRLS' BASKETBALL

FRONT ROW—Edith Dockendorf, Grayce Statler, Ione Patrick (Captain) Thelma Hoyt.
BACK ROW—Miss Jardine (Coach), Mary Jordan, Dorothy Gongwer.

This year a regular program was gone through within the four upper classes in basketball. In order to get practice before starting the class games, Miss Jardine chose four girls, who were captains of mixed teams from the four classes. After several games had been played in this manner, it wasn't so difficult to choose the class teams. The class captains were Naomi Kopp for the Seniors, Ione Patrick for the Juniors, Georgianne Brown for the Freshmen and Lucille Stentz for the Sophomores. All games were played after school. Each of the four teams played the other teams twice. The Junior Class Team won the Championship without much trouble. They were undefeated. Following are their scores:

Juniors	Sophomores	27–16
Juniors	Freshmen	46– 4
Juniors	Seniors	31–17
Juniors	Freshmen	38—8
Juniors	Sophomores	31—9
Juniors	Seniors	26–10

Letters were awarded to all girls who played twelve quarters. The letters were orange basketballs with black stitching.

8A-1 GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

FRONT ROW—Mary Elizabeth Garber, Laura Eddy (Captain), Anna Laura Duncan, Dora Louise Patton

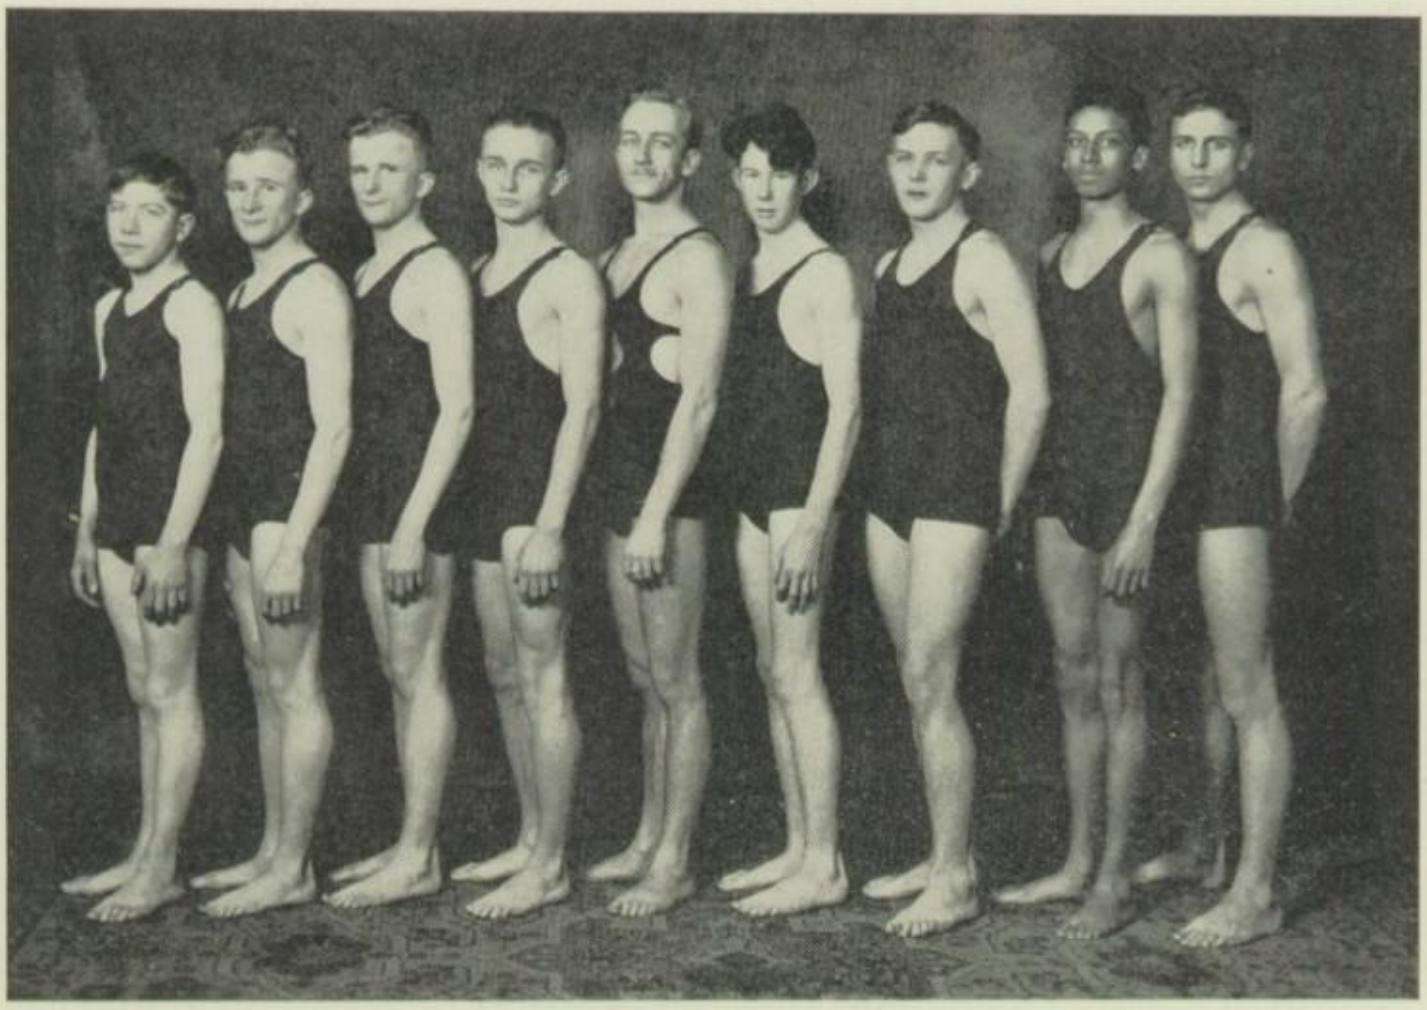
This year, for the first time, the seventh and eighth grade girls were given a chance to play basketball. Girls who played forward on the Junior and Senior teams acted as coaches to the eight different teams from the lower classes. The girls played their games after school two nights a week, four games being held each night. The games were refereed by the older girls. Nearly one hundred girls from the seventh and the eighth grade were interested in basketball. With this good start, in due time Ashland High School may expect a good girls' team.

The championship for this year went to the 8A-1. Out of the seven games they won five, tied one, and lost one.

Following is the record of their games:

8A1	9B	18–2
8A1	8B1	2—2
8A1	8A2	8—5
8A1	8B2 and 7A3	12–2
8A1	7A1	21–0
8A1	7A2	32–6
8A1	8A3	4–14



SWIMMING TEAM

Ashlanders were rather satisfied with the High School's first swimming team last year because it beat Mansfield. Though this year's team was not so fortunate as to do that again, it did some things worthy of mention for which we give credit here. Chief among its accomplishments was the winning of second place in the first Northeastern Ohio Swimming Tournament, put on by the College of Wooster. Fluke, William Krumlaw and Downs starred as point-winners, and A. H. S. was proud to have one swimmer, George Fluke, qualify for the State Finals. Everyone won some points this year so we're glad to name George Fluke, William Krumlaw, Robert Downs, Willis Krumlaw, Ralph Suter, David Keifer, Ned Donley, Dennis Henderson, and James Liston as the A. H.S. swimming team of 1928-29.

TRACK MEN

Matthews, Peck, Henderson, Plank, Norris, Roberts, Benton, Willis Krumlaw, Enck, Newcomb, Seigman, Rankin, Bill Kick, Baird, Bensinger, Earl Kick, Morr, Tallentire.

SPECIAL:—Rybolt, Bill Kriems.

The Track Team for this year was a much better balanced team than any in the preceding years, and the result was that more first places were won. Firsts could usually be counted on in the 100, 220, and half mile. Ashland showed well in the shot, hurdles and javelin, Ashland's relay team was the surprise of the season. Starting out in the first 2 meets the relay team was in a slump, but in the triangular meet with Willard and Shelby it hit its stride and won.

N. C. O.

The N. C. O. really wasn't the league Ashland was in, but it was teams from all over the state. Ashland failed to show very well but considering the opposition it wasn't so bad.

WILLARD

At Willard, in a close and interesting meet, Ashland emerged on top by a score of 61½ to 60½. Ashland showed promise and it looked as though we might win some meets.

SHELBY

At Shelby, Ashland hit a slump and was unable to get going. The result was that we lost the meet about 10 points.

WOOSTER

In the first home meet, Ashland made a clean sweep of Wooster teams, by beating their track team by one point.

SHELBY—WILLARD

In the triangular meet with Willard and Shelby, Ashland upset the dope bucket and won. The relay team hit its stride and came in first to win the meet by one point.

TRACK

MANSFIELD

In the last meet with Mansfield, Ashland bowed to Mansfield's superior team by a score of 87-35. Ashland still fought back and about 3 firsts were accomplished.

JUNIOR VARSITY

Due to lack of material, the Jay Vees lost two meets at Mansfield by a large score both times. Mansfield had a good team, too good for Ashland, but against other Jay Vee teams Ashland wouldn't come out so bad.

BASEBALL MEN

Schreck, Wycoff, Kirkpatrick, Lutz, Rader, Wiley, Morrison, Streit, Baird.
SPECIAL:—Bear, Barnes, Streine, Wasen.

A Baseball season that seemed surely an unsuccessful one, at the beginning of the season, turned out to be a highly successful one. Pete Blough's sluggers, at first minus a good pitcher, came thru and hung up a real record for themselves.

Following is the summary of the season:—

LOUDONVILLE

Ashland journeyed to Loudonville and took the "Red Birds" into camp by a score of 10-6. Loudonville afterwards became the County "Class B Champs," so Ashland beat no mediocre team.

CHATFIELD

Wycoff pitched a winning game, but due to lack of support, Ashland lost out by a score of 4 to 5.

NEW LONDON

At New London the boys struck a hitting slump, and were nosed out 14-10.

GALION

Ashland started on a winning streak, against Galion, and knocked them off by a score of 5-0. Wycoff pitched an airtight ball and was well supported.

LOUDONVILLE

Loudonville came to Ashland with the expectation of getting revenge. But they lacked the necessary punch, and were defeated 5-2.

GALION

Ashland made a clean sweep of Galion by beating them 4-2 at Galion. Wycoff continued to pitch a good ball and everyone hit well for Ashland.

BASEBALL JR. VARSITY

The J. V's lived up to the second team standards, and hung up a record of 3 wins out of 4 games. The team showed promise, and most of them will be the nucleus for next year's varsity. They were not only hitters but promising fielders, and the result of the season shows their ability.

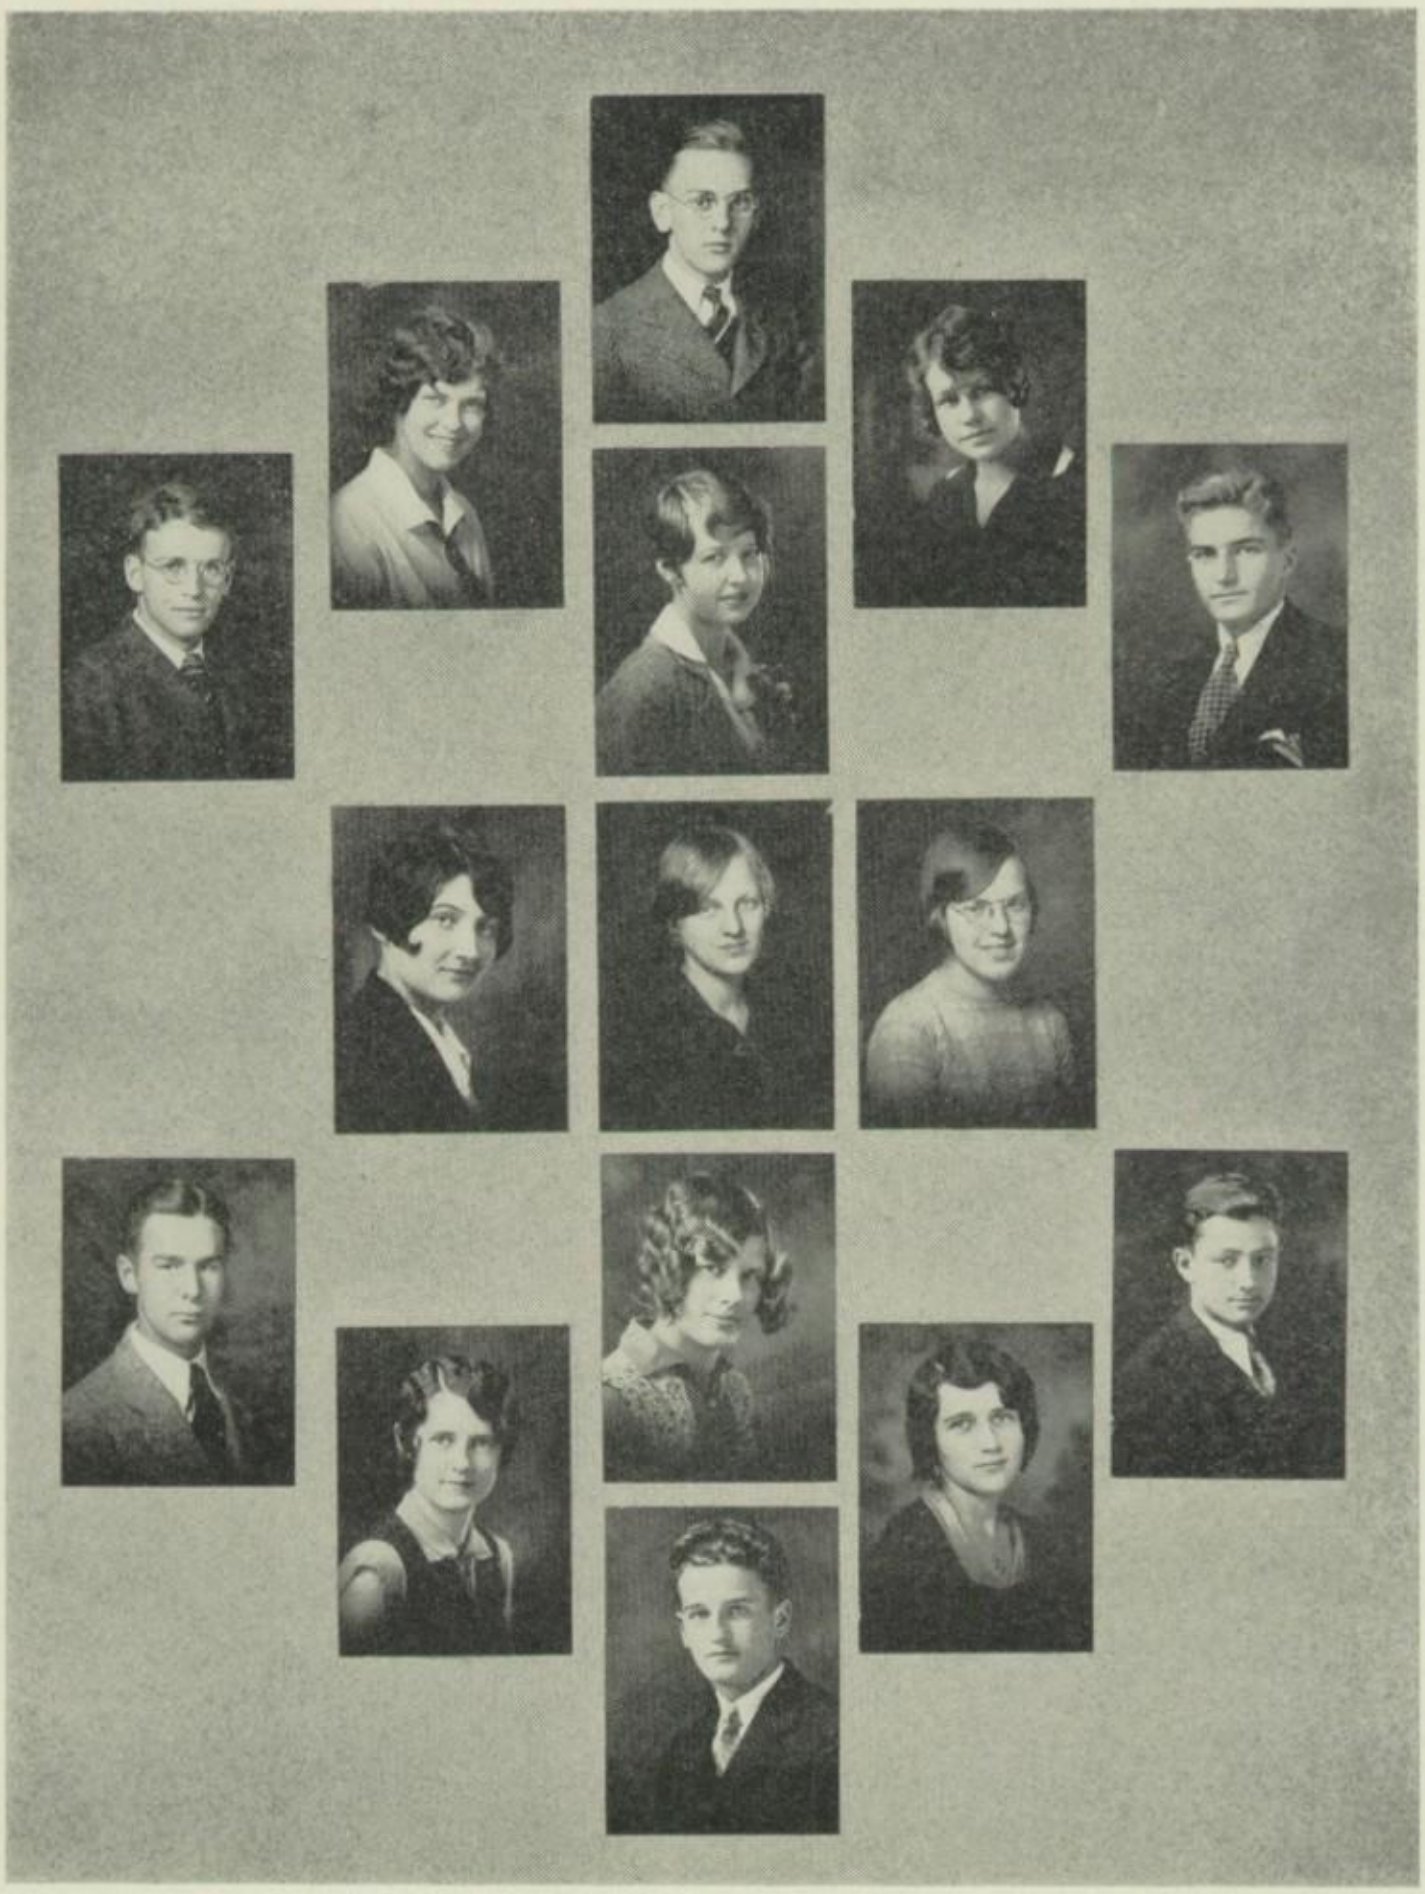
The results follow:—

J. V.	7	—	Nankin	7
J. V.	1	—	Sullivan	7
J. V.	3	—	Sullivan	1
J. V.	15	—	Perrysville	3
J. V.	10	—	Perrysville	4

GOLF

This year was the first attempt by Ashland to have a Golf Team. The Team, composed of Paxton, Lutz, Laurence Morr and Enck went to Canton and came in fifth out of a field of 11 entries. For such a good showing for the first year the team in the future years should improve and bring in some victories.

Publications



THE SPODOGIAN

This year under the directorship of Geo. Gongwer the Seniors have attempted to put out an annual that would fulfill the requirements of a good annual and at the same time keep within the certain limitations. Mr. Gongwer has had some publication experience before coming to A. H. S. and has been a large factor in publishing the Spodogian.

The staff as a whole has cooperated to the fullest extent and sincerely hope that this Annual fulfills the expectations of the school.

NEWS STAFF

FIRST ROW—Helen Louise Brown, Helen Louise Hess, Ruth Markley, Mary Alice George, Marguerite Shenberger, Janet Topping.

SECOND ROW—Marceil Houston, Florence Leiter, Maxine Walker, Kathryn Kerr, Gertrude Strock, Rosemary Murphy, Elizabeth Ritchey.

TOP ROW—Gladimere Schreck, Fred Vanosdall, Ralph Meade, Roy Strickling.

This year, the news column has been both news and entertainment. The news published this year easily equalled that of other years though the staff was not as large. The column gave the people of Ashland a chance to get acquainted with the various activities of the school. College news and news of other high schools were made known through the exchange column. Assignments were given to each member of the staff and each was expected to find material for themselves. Credit was given to the members of the staff who completed the required number of inches during the year.

THE MEETING OF OLD FRIENDS

It was a crisp October afternoon of 1950 when I was walking down Fifth Avenue of New York City. Madame Julia's attractive Tea Room invitingly suggested a restful retreat before going to an afternoon musical. I entered and seated myself in a cozy nook near the front of the room where I could watch the passing crowd. I sat there serenely sipping my tea with a sense of relief after a fatiguing shopping tour, when I was aroused by strangely familiar voices. To my astonishment, who should come towards me but two ladies, whom I immediately recognized as my old friends and classmates in High School—Florence and Anna.

How happy we were! Immediately we were chatting like school girls, telling of our experiences and of our meetings with others who had been in our class.

"Girls, whom do you suppose I just met?" Anna inquired.

"Who?" we asked.

"Mary Alice and she was with that noted New York photographer whose name is Nichols."

Upon hearing this, Florence from San Francisco, asked us, "Oh! Didn't you know that Ruth and Herb had been playing opposite in the leading roles in Los Angeles, under the direction of Janice Bowsher, who was also a great elocutionist?"

Suddenly we were joined by an attractive lady—and who do you suppose it was? None other than the owner of this cozy tea room—Julia Enck. She told me that ever since she had seen me enter the door, she had been wondering who I was, and had finally recognized me as one of her childhood playmates. Julia also informed us that about a week before, Miriam had stopped for a few hours in New York. She was on her way back to Kansas City, after an eastern tour. Since we had only a half hour to reach the Great Music Hall, we said good-bye to Julia and started.

This auditorium was indeed marvelous with its classic beauty and its gorgeous decorating. After the fourth feature of the program, there appeared upon the stage a tall, slender lady. She seated herself at the piano and began to play. I did not know this pianist, until she smiled. I do believe that I uttered out loud, "Why that's Gertrude Jesson." Nearer the end of the entertainment, the announcer stated, that next would be Mr. R. Helman. This gentlemen entered with a trumpet. He was playing successfully, when very unexpectedly, Felix, the cat of the comedies, darted across the floor and took poor Roger's notes. Roger hastily chased this mischievous creature, but with no avail.

After the concert, Anna entertained us with an account of her trip to Europe. She began by telling us that when she first went aboard the ship, for some strange reason, she was interested in listening to the captain giving orders to the sailors. This able officer proved to be Captain Paxton—the Dick Paxton of our former high school days.

While in Paris, she met Ambassador Ralph Meade. Thus, it is revealed that his political hopes were finally attained.

Anna said, "While I was traveling in southeastern Europe, I was informed by a distant relative that one of '29's prominent swimmers was to swim the Hellespont. Of course, I was determined to attend this event. But what do you suppose I discovered—the athelete was actually Junior Plank."

While we talked on and on, living over old times, we had never realized how late it was getting. I persuaded my friends to stay with me and go to a game the next day.

The following afternoon, we took our reserved places in the grand stand. Directly in front sat a man, who became so excited that he actually performed antics, like those of a cheerleader before an imaginary audience. After I heard his strong voice, I tried to remember where I had heard that voice before. Suddenly he turned around. Certainly, I had remembered the voice of Ed Mowery. He was just as spry at 40, as he had been at 18.

As luck would have it, the game again ended in favor of New York. On our way to the hotel, Florence related, that two weeks ago, she had seen Elizabeth, who had become a very successful business woman. She had married—"Oh, I just can't remember names—anyhow his first name began with "R."

We stopped at a newstand to buy the "New York Herald." On glancing through the columns, I noticed a headline concerning a new type of champion. Bob Enck had won the gum chewing contest in the Fiji Islands.

As I spied a new magazine, "The Lives of Prominent Musicians," I began to leaf through it hurriedly. Unexpectedly, I came to the picture of an artist who was standing behind a xylophone. I wondered whom I had known that played this sort of instrument. At the bottom of the picture was inscribed Fred Vanosdall. Certainly, we all had known he would be famous.

It really is queer how things finally turn out—and just to think within a week, Florence, Anna, and I were on our way back to Ashland, with the hopes of seeing more of our friends.

Yes, our wishes were fulfilled. When we were walking up Main Street, we met Maxine Freytag. Maxine had succeeded Virginia Morr in her responsible position at Ashland High School office. We were glad to accept Maxine's invitation to return to the school with her. She aroused our curiosity, when she told us that many things had taken place at school, which changes would surprise us very much.

When we were walking up the main corridor, we saw the name of Principal Robert Haynes, in the place of that of Principal Cummings, of the old days. On the door of Miss Mason's room, we read Janet Topping. So Janet had decided on the duties of a French teacher. As we came to the room where so many debate speeches had been rehearsed, who should be opening the door, but Margaret Brubaker. She had succeeded Mr. Todd. Because of her debate enthusiasm, she had willingly accepted this position.

When nearing the first floor, we heard the echo of excited voices, and decided that it was in the old gym. When we entered the balcony amid the yells and screams of the girls playing ball, who should we see, but their teacher, Naomi Kopp. Naomi had been interested in athletics in High School.

We then drove through the manufacturing section. We saw above a large building, Heichel & Co. The driver informed us that Guy was a very prominent business man in Ashland. All over the United States he was becoming noted for his invention of unbreakable glass. He had claimed and had proved that no matter how hard one slams the door, glass of his invention absolutely will not break. Although this was news to us, still other surprises awaited us.

While walking up Main Street, a passer-by called, "Hello." We were rather startled, but turned round to find Frances M. Wolf, standing before us. Frances stated that she held the position as bookkeeper, with Edith Yeater as stenographer for Heichel & Co. When she mentioned that she was on her way to Kate's Beauty Shop, Florence inquired, "Kate who?"

"Why, Katherine Lozier. Yes, she is considered the best in town. In fact, the best in the state." Then Frances promised to meet us again Saturday afternoon to take a drive.

We concluded to go to our rooms, and to take with us the daily Gazette. This faithful old newspaper revealed many things to us.

On the first page was an account of a brave life-guard at Palm Beach, Florida. The hero was found to be Murray Beeghley, who had saved the lives of Maxine Walker and Jane Plank. Back in High School days, Murray had been a wonderful swimmer, and had given great promise of bravery.

In another column, there was honor given to a prominent aviator, called "Lindy II." DeLyle Seigman was this second world idol. He was being praised for his daring flight from Paris to New York.

In another section of the paper was an article concerning Kathryn Kerr. Kathryn was to leave for Paris, in two weeks, where she would continue her wonderful work of designing.

The Personals stated that Miss Rosemary Murphy, after a month's vacation, had resumed her duties as Matron of a Girls' Seminary in Indiana. I believe Rosemary had always been interested in that work anyway.

On the first page we found that Marshall Whisler had won a stock judging contest held in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

We hoped that Saturday would be a sunshiny day, and it really was wonderful for our drive.

When we first saw Frances, we admired her new hat. She told us that she purchased it at McIntosh and Houston's Hat Shop. Well, can you beat that!

Frances chatted on, that Florence Leiter was about to start on a campaign for women's rights. Her particular agitation was concerning House-Hold Drudgery. Frances also said that just a few months ago, Junior Jacobs had become his father's successor, as President of the College on the hill.

At this time a green Whippet coupe whizzed by. Anna said, "Oh, look, there's someone waving at us."

Well, if it wasn't Mary Jane Shuey!

When we arrived at Mansfield, who should we meet but Frances E. Wolf and Helen Riley. They were on their way to the "Ohio," and wanted us to go along. So we decided to attend the Matinee.

The lady in the ticket booth looked familiar. She said, "Hello, girls, don't you know me? Where have you been all these years?"

Yes, we knew her. Why not? It was Erwina Leathers.

When we entered the inside lobby, we were astonished to find that the usher, who approached us, was our old friend, Glenna Emminger. While on the way to our seats, we passed another usher, Marguerite Shenberger.

The first part of the show was another production of the "Collegians." It was a foot-ball game between the Juniors and the Seniors. Oh, it was so exciting! The score was 2-0 in favor of the Juniors, and only 2 minutes to play. Suddenly a tall figure eagerly leaped for the ball. He caught it! He dashed towards the goal line, dodging this one, and that one, in a daring effort to reach victory. Encouraged by the cheers, he did, he made it! He gained the line—but fell, completely exhausted. The crowd was screaming, "Kirk Rah, Kirk Rah."

The vaudeville had begun when two small actors, dressed as sailors, appeared upon the stage. They sang humorous songs, and told clever jokes. While they were leaving the stage, Frances said, "I believe I know who they are—the Krumlaw twins."

Then two ladies entered. One seated herself at the piano, and began to play slowly and softly. The other, with her clear soprano voice, sang, "I love you, I love you."

Helen asked, "Oh, who is that? I've heard that before!" I exclaimed, "Oh, that's Gertrude Strock. Don't you remember how she used to sing that song, over and over again? Oh, yes, and that's Mary Shriver playing for her too."

Next, there came tripping across the floor, a dancer dressed in a foreign costume, interpretating a quaint Russian dance.

Florence uttered, "I do believe that's Jane Matthews." And sure enough, it was.

While we were leaving the theater, we met Gladys Reed and Louise Morr. During our visit with these girls, we were informed that many members whom we had been unable to see had also achieved fame. This made us feel proud of our old class of '29.

OPERA HOUSE

HOME OF VITAPHONE

Two children had been trying to find their way home. Finally one said—I wish I knew where we are. Huh—said the other—I know where we are all right, but I don't know where any place else is.

Stop and let the train go by,
It hardly takes a minute.
Your car starts off again intact
And better still—you're in it.

COMB AGAIN

Josiah Brush, a traveling man
Who sailed the briny main,
Was "Mr. Brush" in England,
And "Senor Brush" in Spain,
The Frenchmen called him "Monsieur Brush,"
But the Germans were his bane.
For they always called him "Herr Brush"
Which filled his soul with pain.

"Don't you know that you should always give half of the road to a woman driver?" asked the police of a motorist who came near having a collison on the street with another car.

"I always do," said the man, "when I find out which half of the road she wants."

Tourist (after taking deep breath on car platform)—Isn't this air exhilerating?
Porter—No, sah, this air Jacksonville.

She—He's so romantic. Whenever he speaks to me he starts 'Fair Lady.'
He—Shucks. There's nothing romantic about this. That's just force of habit. He used to be a conductor.

Poppa (at Thanksgiving dinner)—Willie, you've reached for everything in sight. Now stop it; haven't you got a tongue?
Willie—Sure, Pop, but my arm's longer.

The stout man on the scale was eagerly watched by two small boys. The man dropped in his cent, but the machine was out of order and only registered 75 pounds.
"Goodnight," gasped one of the youngsters in amazement, "he's hollow."

Teacher (to school cut-up)—James, sit down in front.
James—I can't, I'm not made that way.

Parent—There is nothing worse than to be old and bent.
Herb W.—I think there is, Dad.
Parent—Well, what is it?
Herb W.—To be young and broke.

Bob Haynes—What! Ten cents for that coat hanger? Too much. Haven't you got something cheaper?
Clerk—How about a nail, sir?

What kind of a watch have you got?
A wonder watch.

Wonder watch? Never heard of that before.
Well, it's like this. Every time I look at it I wonder what time it is.

Bill Harris—I've been trying to think of a word for two weeks.
Betty Ingmand—How about fortnight?

Father—Why are your marks so low in school since the holidays?
Nick—Oh, Dad, you know everything was marked down after Christmas.

Kate Weaver—Would you put yourself out for me?
Boy friend—Certainly, I would.
Kate—I wish you would then, because it's late.

WRESTLING MATCH

And from the depths of the sedan
There came a muffled curse.
He was trying to fold the road-map
Same as it was at first.

THROUGH ALL ETERNITY

An Irishman, while walking down the street, was stopped by a gentleman who asked him for a match.

"Thank you," responded the gentleman. "You know I am a man of importance at home. I am Sir John Bally-Burley, Knight of the Iron Cross, Knight of the Golden Fleece, and Knight of the Eagle, and what's your name, my man?"

"Me name's Michael Murphy, night before last, last night, tonight, and tomorrow night, and every other night."

Salesman (showing golf stockings)—Wonderful value, sir. Worth double the money. Latest pattern, fast colors, hole-proof, won't shrink and it's a good yarn.

Supt. Bowsher—Yes, and very well told.

Sunday School Teacher (to small boy)—Can you tell me something about the Israelites?"

Jack (aged four)—I don't know anything about them. We have electric lights at home.

For some reason my wife was absent from the dinner table one evening. The children and I took our accustomed places with the exception of my youngest, Dorothy, aged seven, who seated herself in the mother's chair. With the proper poise she announced, "I am the mother now and you kids must behave." The other children entered into the spirit of the assumed situation, which was dignity personified, until my boy of ten said, "Well, Dorothy, if you are the mother, how much is six times nine?" Without a moment's delay and still her maternal role, she replied, "I'm busy, you ask your father."

"Late again," the irate manager frothed at the late arrival. "Have you ever done anything on time in your life?"

The latecomer answered with an air of solemnity, "Well, I bought a car."
